THE CLASS OF 1989

To

THE UNITED STATES NAVAL ACADEMY

As one glances around the yard, the eye is inevitably drawn to the copper dome of the Naval Academy Chapel. This dominating structure was built in 1904 and has since remained a symbol to midshipmen and to the world of the missions of the Naval Academy and of the United States Navy.

UNITED STATES NAVY

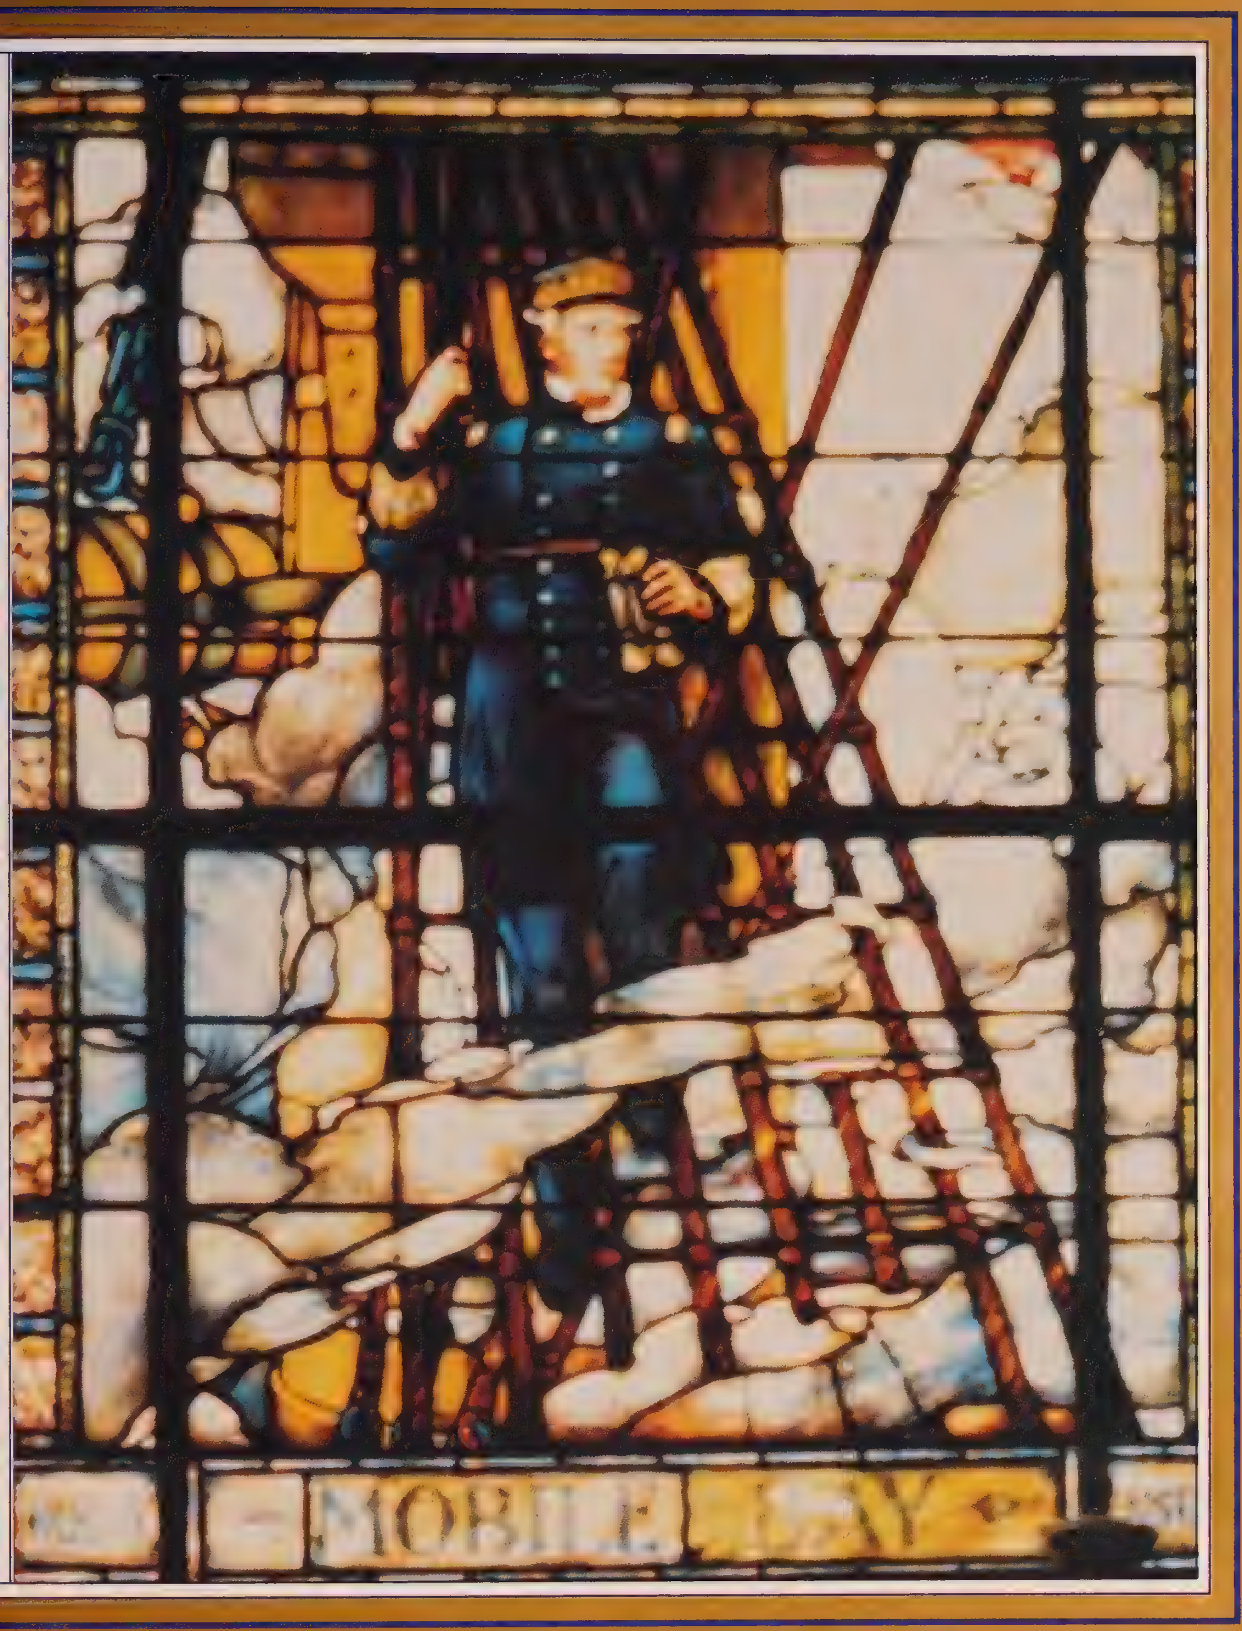
EX
SCIE

To develop mishipmen morally, mentally, and physically and to imbue them with the highest ideals of duty, honor, and loyalty in order to provide graduates who are dedicated to a career of naval service and have potential for future development in mind and character to assume the highest responsibilities of command, citizenship, and government.

Within the walls of the Chapel a midshipman can find solace and peace. It is a place where a midshipman can escape the pressures of the academic schedules, physical tests, come arounds, and professional requirements of the Academy world outside. More importantly, it is a place where we can remind ourselves of the reasons we chose to accept this tremendous challenge.

I, ..., having been appointed a midshipman in the United States Navy, do solemnly swear that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter; So help me God.

The crypt of John Paul Jones and stained glass windows dedicated to naval heroes such as Admirals Porter, Farragut, and Sampson are parts of the Chapel which will forever remind us of those who never lost sight of their mission. Inscribed words on the massive bronze doors eloquently state, "Non Sibi Sed Patriae" — Not for Self but for Country.



MOBILE BAY

Sign on and sail with me. The stature of our homeland is no more than the measure of ourselves. Our will is to keep the torch of freedom burning for all. To this solemn purpose we call on the young, the brave, and the strong, and the free. Heed my call. Come to the sea. Come sail with me.
- John Paul Jones

The Lucky Bag frames these small portraits on the next 833 pages and provides the reader with an overall view of life at the Academy. While the Chapel symbolizes the missions of the Naval Academy and of the United States Navy, the Lucky Bag serves as a constant reminder of the successes each midshipman has struggled to attain.

Overall: 3-8

The Navy football season started out with a bang as the Midshipmen won their first two games for the first time since 1981. With wins over James Madison and Delaware, things were looking good for the rest of the season.

The defense appeared to be ready. It was lead by Captain Mark Pimpo (left bottom) at linebacker who was hampered by injuries all year long. It shined at times as exemplified by the 30-3 rout of Delaware and the 41-7 slaughter of Yale at Homecoming.

The offense led by Captain Burt Pangrazio was marked with indecision as both Alton Grizzard and Gary MacIntosh started. At one point during the season, Grizzard was starting at wide receiver while MacIntosh was throwing to him. For the first two games, the Navy offense was rolling with an average yardage per game of 386 and average rushing totaled to 307 yards. With 450 yards total offense at Citadel and 527 yards against Yale, there were several explosive days for the Blue and Gold. In the second quarter of the Yale game, quarterback MacIntosh ran for touchdowns of 42 and 51 yards and threw a 32 yard touchdown pass to receiver Carl Jordan. The Midshipmen scored 28 points in the second half of the Citadel game in a valian effort to rally. Among the scores was a 49 yard strike to Jordan.

When it came time to play Notre Dame, the Irish were favored heavily. But when the game day arrived, the Navy squad showed a national television audience how tough they could be as the Irish only won by 15 points. The game however was much closer than the score portrays. Irish Head Coach Lou Holtz remarked the "Our offensive line got beat up front; Navy's defensive line beat us."

On December 3rd, the Midshipmen met the Cadets of Army in a cliffhanger that was not decided until 1:35 left to play in the fourth quarter. The two-point conversion accompanying James Bradley's two yard scoring drive failed. The defense limited the third ranked rushing offense in the nation to 246 yards. Alton Grizzard went 7-15 for 77 yards and rushed well with 20 carries for 62 yards. The final score was 15-20 with Army victorious. With the experience this young squad and two returning class quarterbacks earned this season in games against nationally ranked teams such as Notre Dame this Navy team will no doubt be an tough opponent for the teams willing to battle us next year. Look out Army!

Clash Of The Warriors

The date was December 3, 1988 and we were in Philadelphia. The Cadets from the Hudson and our Midshipmen were gearing up for a hair-raising, edge-of-seat-sittin', nail biting duel that wouldn't become clear until 1:35 was left in the fourth quarter.

Navy Co-Captain Mark Pimpo, playing in his last Army-Navy Classic, "vowed to play" even though he was injured and starting quarterback Alton Grizzard was hampered by a bruised shoulder and knee. Both men did take the field and the team was fired up and ready to play.

Both of the teams ran the wishbone and that effectively reduced the chances of any passing. Army only made 2 out of 3 passes for 30 yards, but one was a 17 yard pass on third and six from the Navy 44 to receiver Doug Baker in the fourth quarter drive that finally decided the game. QB Bryan McWilliams was the heart of the Army offense as he led all rushers with 100 yards and one touchdown. But Army's rushing game was not up to its usual par. Navy's defense allowed only 246 yards rushing to the nations third place rushing team with an average of 357 yards per game.

One important aspect of the game was that Army converted on four of four fourth down conversions. Two of these resulted in scores.

Kicker Ted Fundoukos led Navy scorers with three field goals and Navy running back James Bradley rushed for a touchdown. Youngster Quarterback Alton Grizzard passed 77 yards using 7 completions out of 15 attempts.

With Army leading 20-9 and 5:25 left in the contest, Navy started a drive that was to be its last of the year. The Navy offense traveled downfield led by the passing of Grizzard down to the two after which James Bradley scored his touchdown with 1:35 left. The two-point conversion was incomplete. Army recovered the onside kick. The final score was 20-15.

Overall Record: 4-2-1

The Naval Academy's 150 Pound Football Team compiled an outstanding record of 4 wins, 1 loss, and 2 ties which gave them the honor of being second in the league.

The short season, which only lasts three months, was characterized by a closeness and unity shared by the members of the team. This was the result of the strenuous weight program that is a requirement of the sport. A maximum weight of 158 pounds must be reached 48 hours before game time and many players must lose in the area of 40 lbs. in order to reach that limit. Many players, in order to lose the weight, go for days without food, or water and still practice and play.

The team was coached by CDR Bassy and two captains. The offensive captain was 1/c Mike Priefer and his counterpart on defense was 1/c Rich Hulit.

The last game of the season was an exciting affair held at the Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium as Army came to town with an unbeaten record. As the fourth quarter rolled around, the score was tied and tensions were high. Our winning points came from 3/c Keith Takabayashi as he scampered down field for a 32 yard touchdown and later as 2/c Charles Spangler's third field goal of the game sailed through the uprights. The game was also highlighted by the Navy defense which closed the door on the number one offense in the conference and stopped them cold. The final score was 16-6.

The team maintains that they had small problems. They link the trouble to the loss of their previous coach, LTCOL Messick with whom they were very close. The new coaching staff brought in a new style and that offset the team a bit. they predict a 7-0 season next year under the direction of new coach, MAJ Mulligan and captains 2/c David Haas (defense) and 2/c Charles Vickers.

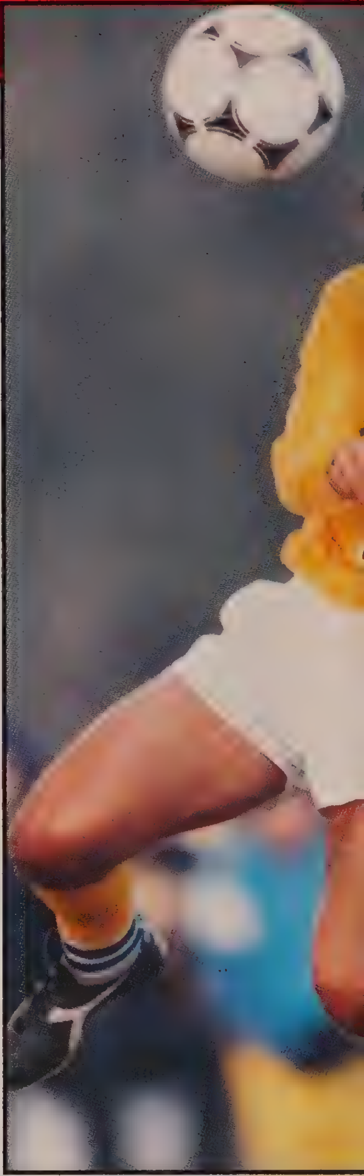
Heading To Victory



After finishing last year 9-9-1, and facing defending Colonial Athletic Association champion William & Mary on the road to open the season, Navy couldn't exactly anticipate being the 1988 Colonial Athletic Association champion.

Greg Myers did, however, offer this pre-season prediction: "I'm convinced that if these guys work together as a team," the 13th-year coach said, "they'll surprise some people."

They didn't surprise James Madison, which beat the Mids 3-0 in Harrisonburg to give the Mids a 0-1-1 CAA record after three games.

And they didn't surprise people with any prolific scoring: Navy's first 12 goals were scored by 10 different players, and no Navy player finished among the top 20 scorers in the CAA.

But they did surprise people as, after the loss to James Madison, the Mids quietly racked up a nifty seven-game unbeaten streak. Included in that streak was a 1-0 victory over then 16th-ranked Yale in which goalkeeper Mike Ulses stopped two uncontested breakaways and two other point-blank shots to earn CAA Co-Player of the Week honors. Also included in that streak were CAA victories over Richmond and George Mason. Now owners of a 4-1-1 CAA record and a win over mighty George Mason, Navy started to believe the NCAA Tournament was a possibility.

The Mids' then beat American, 3-1, to finish CAA play with a 5-1-1 mark. One problem still existed: James Madison, at 4-1-1, needed only to beat William & Mary to claim the title in one of collegiate soccer's toughest conferences. Final score: William & Mary 3, James Madison 0, Navy 1 trip to the NCAA Tournament.

Navy coach Greg Myers also reached two milestones this year, winning his 100th game as Navy's coach and his 200th game as a collegiate coach. This is his first trip to the NCAA Tournament with Navy, which hasn't appeared in the tourney since 1974.

Navy Women's Soccer had an outstanding season this year. Under the leadership of captain Kristin Reynolds, the soccer club experienced its best season yet, with a record of 8-5-2.

The season was highlighted by the game against Anne Arundel Community College, who was ranked first of all junior college women's soccer team in the nation. The match ended in a 1-1 tie after two 10 minute overtime periods, leaving Anne Arundel with a record of 15-0-1.

Forwards Kate Christensen and Suzanne Autry were Navy's top scorers for the season. They were strongly supported by halfbacks Susan Oxendine and Vicki Gnibus and fullback Sarah Morley. Goalie Jo Ann McCabe stopped more goals and saved more games than can be counted. Coached by Bruce Campbell, 1/c Brant Brockett, 1/c Jay Lapoint, and O-Rep LCDR Keith Maynard, the team sorpassed all expectations. Thanks to their trainer, 1/c Mark Lauda, the season was free of serious injury. Navy Women's Soccer has proved once again that "Blood Makes the Grasss Grow!"

Hot Enough To Boil

Navy Water Polo had its most successful season ever. The team, with a small number of returning starters, was not expected to make the NCAA Tournament in Long Beach, Ca., and in fact was picked to place third on the East Coast. But this team had other plans.

The Mids returned home to test themselves against the East Coast teams and defeated Army, Bucknell, and Brown to sweet an Eastern Tournament and become the top ranked Eastern Team.

The Playoffs began in November with Navy sweeping the Mid-Atlantic Tournament. Firsties Tom Popp (MVP) and Jeff Tomlin, second class Tom Tomsheck, and Plebe Luis Nicolao made the all tournament team. The final challenge came at the Eastern Championships which Navy had to win to advance to the NCAA Tournament. Saving their best games for last, Navy players gelled together to soundly defeat Harvard (13-3), Bucknell (11-5), and Arkansas (13-7), and win the title "Eastern Champions" for the third year in a row. Senior Tom Popp (MVP) and junior Tom Tomsheck earned spots on the All Tournament First Team while senior Jeff Tomlin made the All-Tournament Second Team.

The mids advanced to the NCAA Tournament only to finish eighth in the nation. Tom Popp earned third team All-American status and Mike Schofield was chosen Eastern Coach of the Year for the second time in three years.

Spike . . . Point Navy

The U.S. Navy Volleyball Men's Volleyball Team finished strong to end with a 20-18 record, a third place finish on the East Coast, and a #18 national ranking. Coach Pat Nicholas, assistant Mike Schwob, Officer Representative CDR Zambernardi, and faculty representative Professor John Cummings, provided the guidance in a season of firsts which was especially rewarding to the four first classmen: Team Captain Jeff Emenaker, Mark Jorgensen, Jay Warren, and Joe Krycia.

The highlight of the season was advancing to the East Coast Championships for the first time in the program's five year history. The event for the first four teams in the East was held in Halsey Field House and after a tough 3-1 loss to 11th ranked George Mason, the Midshipmen defeated 16th ranked Rutgers 3-1 to earn third place. Jay Warren and youngster Tyler Turvold earned individual honors with the first team and honorable mention All-East selections respectively.

Finishing the season with an impressive record of 28-14, the Women's Varsity Volleyball Team was first in the Atlantic Region, made its third straight trip to nationals, and beat Army for the first time in seven years. Upon graduation, the first class will end an era by leaving behind a total win-loss record of 144-43 and four consecutive national rankings.

Highlights of the season were topped by an exciting come from behind victory over Army in MacDonough Hall. After falling behind 2-1, the team fought back sweeping the last two games to win the match, earning their first N-Star. The season started with a first place victory in Navy's Trident Classic. Throughout the season, Navy survived inconsistent performances with key victories over Liberty Baptist, Akron of Ohio, and C.W. Post in presusre matches leading them to the NCAA Tournament.

Two-Time All-Region selectees, 1/c Heidi Fleming and 1/c Christina Green set numerous records for Navy Volleyball. Heidi Fleming, the starting setter, compiled the most setting assists, setting attempts, and serve aces in Navy history. Christina Green, 6'2" outside hitter, finished her career with Navy records in hitting kills, and total attempts. Both received numerous all-tournament honors throughout the season. Other outstanding performers included 2/c Stacey Dannenburg and 2/c Honore Mealey. Keeping defensive play strong, 1/c Kim Feltault and 1/c Ruth Chasen contributed to the smooth running offense. This team was known for its dedication and winning.

The Navy Harriers had an impressive 988 Season. Team Captain 2/c Bob Packowski leas Navy to a winning record of 8-1 which climaxed with a victory over Army by the score of 24-32. Following the strong running of 2/c Tim Barkdoll, Navy won a fifth consecutive Colonial Athletic Association Championship and finished fourth place at the NCAA Regional Championships, earning a trip to the NCAA Finals in Des Moines, Iowa. Othewr Key runners for the Harriers included: 3/c Don Brown who placed second overall in the Old Dominion Invitational and 2/c Marl Zauel who finished consistently in the top four for Navy. Also instrumental in Navy's success was the aid the team received from officer representatives MAJ Joe Connell, USMC. Coach Al Cantello strongly believes that this team, all of whom will return next season, could win the 1989 NCAA National Championships which are scheduled to be held on the Nacal Academy's Cross Country Course.

On Top In The Long Run

The Women's Cross Country Team, coached by Karen Boyle, had an excellent season finishing undefeated with a record of 6-0. They got off to a great start in a meet against Mt. St. Mary's and Toledo finishing 9 in the top 10. With that momentum, they went on to defeat other teams such as Lehigh, Penn, LaSalle, and James Madison. Other wins include a first place finish in the IUP Invitational and the NCAA Regionals. The highlights of the season include their 24-31 victory over Army and their fourth place finish in Division II Nationals. Standouts for the team were Youngster Kathy Fitzpatrick and Plebe Jenny Scott, both of whom received All-American Honors. The team's officer representative was MAJ Neimeyer and the Captain was Dawn Hillman.

Plagued by transfers and injuries, the Men's Varsity Basketball Team suffered from their worst season ever. 3/c Eddie Reddick and 4/c Sam Cook were forced to take up the slack as the captain of the team 1/c Derrick Turner was hampered with a knee injury all season. Eddie Reddick responded by leading the team in scoring and rebounding. In addition, he was named as a member of the Colonial Athletic Association's Second Team All League. Additional scoring came from 3/c Joe Gottschalk with his long range 3 point bombs, 2/c Erik Harris, 1/c Bobby Jones, and 1/c Craig Prather also contributed to Navy points. Defensively, the team was led by 3/c Mel Davis.

The team, however, won the most important game. For the 8th straight time, Navy Basketball dominated Army in front of a standing-room-only crowd in Halsey Field House. With eleven underclassmen returning next year, the future only looks brighter and the team will no doubt be on top once more.

Lady Hoopsters Slam Dunk Army

The Navy Women's Basketball team finished another successful season this year improving over last year's record. The women began this season on fire winning the first three games and capturing top honors in the West Chester and IUP tournaments. Competing against their toughest schedule ever, the mids struggled at times but never fell below the .500 mark. The team finished the season by winning seven out of eight games including a 68-55 routing of Army. The victory is Navy's third straight win against the arch rival and gives them the series lead, 5-4.

The team is saying farewell to two very talented and impressive seniors. Captain Karen West averaged over five points a game and finished third in rebounds. Her consistent defensive play proved to be a factor in more than one contest. Forward Monica Holland finished the season with 995 points placing her fourth on the Navy's All Time Scorer list and fifth in Career Rebounds with 643. She also set the school record for most games played with 102.

Navy will return six letter winners next year, including 2/c Connie James, the team's scoring and rebounding leader who set the school record of 204 field goals in a single season this year. Thanks goes out to coach Dave Smalley who coached this team to success this season, to the team's officer representative, CDR Gordon, and to all the managers who continually support the team at home and at away games.

Power . . .

An entusiastic and motivated Navy Powerlifting team completed a strong season with a 3rd place overall finish at nationals. The women, led by champion Doranea Clark, placed third and the men, led by runner-up Todd Nichols and 3rd place finisher Rob Williams, placed a respectable fourth. Other national women's placers were runner-up Maureen Magnan, 3rd place finishers Lisa Bozzelli and Cecily Williams, and 5th place finishers Vonda Armstrong and Mary Wegner. Other national men's placers were 4th place Glen Wauchope and 5th placers Keith Williams and Eric Zerphy.

With strict eight week training cycles, Navy powerlifters perfected each of their three competitive lifts: deadlift, bench press, and squat. Each team member obviously trained for strength and explosiveness, but proper techniques had to be mastered before they could succeed in competition. Coach Steve Murdock and other team veterans helped newcomers adjust their lifts to achieve better efficiency within competition restrictions. In the weeks before meets all team members strived for excellence and the team's energy motivated Navy powerlifters to peak performance and success in competition.

This year's gymnastics team was led by captain Jeff Petrie who was a consistent performer. The season demonstrated that Navy gymnastics is moving ever closer to a bid at NCAA nationals by tallying an 8 - 3 record, beating Army for the eighth straight time and winning the Eastern League meet for the third time in a row. The coming year looks very promising with the backbone of the team returning for their final year. There will be, however, changes made to the coaching staff. Some key gymnasts this season were 2/c Mark Burgess, 2/c Jason Carter, 4/c Kurt Erdmann, 2/c Mark Fiori, 2/c Joe Gannon, 2/c Jerry Haran, 3/c Steve Parker, 2/c Lenny Reed, and 2/c Tom Schmitt. This team has the potential to bring Navy gymnastics to the fore front of the national scene.

The Women's Gymnastics Team started the 1989 season with a greater than 20 point lead over Ursinus. With only ten members in the squad, a complete team effort would be necessary throughout the season. However, injuries began to set in on the team members. Two key gymnasts were soon sidelined. Sabrina Bell suffered from a broken foot and Michelle Reyes the previous year's National Champion and winner of the Honda Broderick Award had to recover from a neck injury.

During meets, five of the highest scores of the six competing gymnasts for each team is recorded. A combined total after all events constitutes their final score. At most meets the Navy team would only be able to enter four of the six required players which meant receiving a null fifth score.

Injuries, however, did not stop this team from breaking a Navy record. Of all the women's teams, this squad scored the highest in team points, a record of 170.7 against George Washington University. Led by second year team Captain Peggy Bosnic and first year Coach Bernie Bohince, the women combatted injuries and illnesses and put forth their best effort throughout the year.

Repeating last year's undefeated record seemed like a task easily completed with record of 7 and 0 entering the last match of the season, until Navy met the Cadets from Army. The midshipmen ended a 57 match unbeaten streak with the first loss to Army in six years. Tying last year's score of 10,366 was not enough to overcome the Army score of 10,488. The midshipmen went on to National Championship held at Colorado Springs, Colorado, where they won the first place team award for the air pistol event. Second place laurels in standard pistol, and fourth place honors in free pistol were also brought bacy by Navy. The midshipmen finished second place overall at the intercollegiate championships. Leading this year's pistol suqad were Coach LT T.W. Carter, and Captain 1c Tom White. Maintaining order over the team was LCDR Nowicki, acting as officer representative. Returning from Colorado Springs the pistol team brought back eight All American awards among five shooters. 1/c Billingslea (free), 1/c White (air, standard), 2/c Clark (standard), 2/c Hanzel (free, standard, air), and 3/c Stohs (standard).

The rifle team, led by team captain Art Dove, finished off the year with yet another winning season. Art, accompanied by the rest of the team's letter winners, Will Suggs, Greg Houldson, Aaron Bartlett, and Steve Martin, helped produce 5 new letter winners this year: Jeff Stewart, Jay Kowalczyk, John Pfiffner, John Soma, and Guy Coursey. Kent Churchill and Shawn Spang, other varsity members, are expected to be a valuable asset to the team next year. The team's record was 13 wins and 3 losses culminating in a close triumph over Army: 7607 to 7608. Following the team's victory at West Point, the season ended with a trip to Kentucky to participate in the NCAA Championships. Navy Rifle has now won the Army-Navy series for the past three years; a fourth victory next year will break all previous winning streaks over Army.

The Navy Squash Team ended a successful season as the ninth ranked team in the country. The team was led by seniors Captain Geoff Cogan, and Ki Hwang. The team opened their season with impressive wins over tough opponents such as Amherst, Tufts, and MIT. In their first encounter, Navy demolished Amherst by winning all their matches (9 - 0). The Navy team seemed to work in threes as they would win three lose one, then win three matches once again.

This year's squad held much depth, allowing team members to challenge each other for the number one spot. In the end Geoff Cogan prevailed and proved to be worthy of this spot as he was named a second-team All American. Another consistent performer of this strong squad was 3/c Sunil Desai who played at number two and fought for a first round win over MIT in the National Intercollegiate Squash Racquets Association Individual championships.

The Navy Squash Team is proving to be a consistent national level competitor due to the talent present. A sport which relies on plenty of eye and hand coordination, and brains for a complex strategy, Navy Squash will sure to excite fans next season. Go Navy, Beat Princeton!

The Men's Varsity Fencing Team had an excellent year. Captain Matthew Bishop lead the team to a record of 8 and 4 for the season, fourth at the Eastern Collegiates and to a seventh place finish in the nation. Added leadership came from the individual team captains, Eric Buenviaje and Edward Hiler. Losing only three starters, returning four of the Five men sent to nationals, Navy will have another fantastic season. Matt Ellis, Jim Lawless, Paul Hanover, Arthur Glasgow, and Tom Chung will be back next year to give Navy the edge. The loss of one person will be very evident, Coach Andre Deladrier is retiring after forty-one years as Navy's Coach. The team thanks you for all you've given and wants to warn the fish that you are coming.

The 1988-89 fencing season brought a winning record and fourth place at the NIWFA's (National Intercollegiate Women's Fencing Association). Second class Spilman maintained a 43-11 record for the season and placed fifth individually at nationals. First class Lu placed sixth individually at nationals. LCDR Purdy, the Officer Representative, provided excellent support. Next year's team will be a power house with three of the top four fencers returning including 2/c Spilmam, Kirkpatrick, and Slootmaker. The team will certainly miss having Coach Deladrier around as he retires at the end of the year.

The Men's Indoor Track team jumped out to a quick start by qualifying one person for the NCAA Championships and three others for the IC4A meet. 1/c Charles Bailiey threw the 35-lb. 60 feet, 10.5 inches to find a place in the NCAA's, while 2/c Clay Stackhouse and 3/c Ron Sehnert qualified for the IC4A meet in the 55-meter dash and the shot put, respectively. The mile relay team also ran well enough to compete in the IC4A's. Overwhelming victories against Princeton and Georgetown hinted at the potential that the team possessed. Next, en route to its fourth victory, it took 11 of 15 events from the Maryland Terrapins. Stackhouse and 2/c Tim Barkdoll were double winners on the track and 3/c Anthony Terrell notched two victories in the field. The team unfortunately ended the season with a heartbreaker to Army, but managed to fair very well at the Heptagonals and the IC4A meet. Bailey, the only qualifier for the NCAA Championships placed sixth and earned All-America honors in the 35-lb. weight throw.

This year was a very good one for Varsity Women's Indoor Track. The Officer Representative was Major Chambless of the Mathmatics Department. The head coach was Karen Boyle, and the assistant coaches were Caryl Martin, Missy Stevens and LT. Butler of the Sixth Wing Medical. Outstanding performances on the track could be characterized by athletes like 4/c Susie Stewart who broke and rebroke the 5000 meter record. Track did not overshadow the field, however, as Youngster Maureen Magnan returned this year to break the twenty - pound weight throw record several times, including at the indoor Army meet. There were also intimidating performances by Outdoor Captain Lynn Johnson in the weight throw, 4/c Alexis Petrosky, a quarter miler and half miler, and 4/c Laura Hatcher, a pentathlete as well as high jumper and sprinter. As captain of the team, 1/c Carl Womack was impressed by the performance of all the members. The team qualified more people than ever for the NCAA Division II Nationals; those qualifiers were 1/c Carol Womack and 4/c Petrosky in the half mile, 3/c Sara Colvin in the fifteen hundred meter, and 4/c Stewart in the three thousand meter. 3/c Colvin returned with All American Honors, placing third. Additionally, the team won the Eastern Colligiate Athletic Conference meet for the first time and finished the year with an eight and two record.

Disappointment came early in the season at West Point when heavy underdog, Army halted a three year Navy win streak. However, the 1988-89 season provided the fans of Navy swimming with many climactic moments. After Army, the team punished itself with a grueling Christmas training camp and immediately answered any doubts around conference with a seven meet tear that saw memorable victories recorded at Cornell, Vilanova and Pennsylvania.

At the Colonial Athletic Championships, held in February at UNC- Wilmington, Captain Christopher Smith claimed the 100 freestyle. However, the unshaven mids could not record their third straight conference championships.

Fellow firstclassmen Christopher Smith, Tim Gallaudet, and James Webster consistently came through each week as Navy recorded its fourth consecutive 10-win season (10-4).

The season concluded with the Eastern Seaboard Swimming Championships, held at Harvard in early March. Here, several Academy records fell. Tim Gallaudet broke his own 500 freestyle record, Michael Pestorius ('90) claimed the Academy mark in the 200 Individual Medley and David Graulich ('91) set the 100 Breaststroke standard only to watch a plebe teammate, John Phillips, reset it two heats later. Smith, Webster, Pestorius, Graulich, Phillips, along with Captain-designate James Ball ('90) and Aaron Weber ('92) also took part in two new relays records.

It was a memorable year. Navy Pride!

The Women's Swimming and Diving Team finished its dual meet with a 10-2 record. Team Captain 1/c Theresa Lewis completed her fourth year of varsity diving competition. Fourth year head coach Dick Purdy and assistant Brian McLaughlin led the team to its second straight CAA conference championship. The team also placed sixth at the NCAA Division II Woman's Swimming and Diving Championship at Buffalo, where 11 athletes earning All-American status and ten team records were set. Plebe All-American Diver Stacia Johnson set team, pool and CAA records on both the one and three meter boards. All-American 3/c Jennifer Rowe set a new team record in the 500 and 1650 freestyle. All-American 2/c Dora Lockwood set new team standards in the 100 backstroke, 200 backstroke, and 200 individual medley. Other first team All-Americans are 2/c Debbie Williams, 2/c Heidi Savage, and 4/c Robbi Becker. Earning honorable mention All-American status were 2/c Chris Freuh, 3/c Sara Saltzstein, 3/c Jodi Bloomer, 3/c Jennifer Nicholls and 4/c Jennifer Shaar. Williams, Lockwood, Savage and Becker set new team records in the 200 and 400 medley relays; Williams, Becker, Savage and Freuh set records in the 200 and 400 free relays. The 800 free relay of Freuh, Bloomer, Rowe, and Becker also established a team mark.

What's On The Menu?

Navy Hockey began the season with a new coach and a new philosophy. Coach Jim Berry brought with him a game plan that centered on strong forechecking and lots of hustle - affectionately dubbed "meat n' potatoes" hockey.

The mids finished an injury plagued season with a record of 9 wins and 8 losses. The schedule included many Division III and a Division I team as the team continues to strive for varsity status.

Highlights of Navy's season include winning the 1989 Blue Hen Tournament, where Ken Dyer claimed tournament MVP; an exciting win over College Militaire Royale in St. Jean, Quebec to avenge last year's loss; and hosting a practice session for the Washington Capitals in Dahlgren Hall.

On the ice leadership was provided by captain Michael Good and co-captain James Gonsalves, as well as by seniors Mark Moynihan, Ken Dyer, and goalie Tony Newpower.

Next season promises to be even better as the team returns to a renovated ice rink with a strong schedule that includes many more home games. Navy promises to excite with their fast, rugged meat n' potatoes style of hockey.

In The Blue Corner . . .

The 1988-89 year was a good year for Navy boxing. During the fall, battalion boxing started things off, getting the boxers ready for the upcoming Brigade championship matches in early February. Up until this point, except for a few practice sparring sessions with boxers from other schools, such as Penn State, competition was kept within the Brigade. After the Brigade championship matches, the winner in each of the 12 weight classes advanced to the Southeastern Regional championship matches. These were held on March 16-17 in Halsey Fieldhouse. Dominating the other schools, Navy placed 9 of its 12 contenders on the Southeastern team, which went to the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs for Nationals. Although only Navy's heavyweight, 1/c Steve Laabs, won in the finals, Navy did send five of its nine boxers to the finals. This year's squad was led by Captain Armando Batastini.

Overall: 18-14

The 1989 Navy Baseball Team, led by seniors Chris Fatheree and Tony Faust, finished a respectable 18-14 after opening the season at 8-1. Following an undefeated southern trip, the Midshipmen continued their eventual 8 game winning streak until the opening of EIBL (7-11) play.

The season also included a 21-1 victory over a visiting Soviet National team and concluded with a Tony Faust near perfect, no-hitter outing versus Merchant Marine.

Navy's leading hitters were 3/c Joe Pasquito (.360, 26 RBI's), 3/c Tom Weinberg (.346), 3/c Sam Mowery (.312, 23 runs, 25BB), and 2/c Tim Peifley (.300, 3 HR's). The pitching staff was lead by Faust (6-2, 2.30), and 2/c Mike Coonan (7-2, 2.94), and supported strongly by 2/c David Lowe and 2/c Mike Karczewski.

This marked Coach Joe Duff's 28th season as head coach at Navy and his 25th consecutive non-losing season. The team's Officer Representative is CDR Chris Schleer.

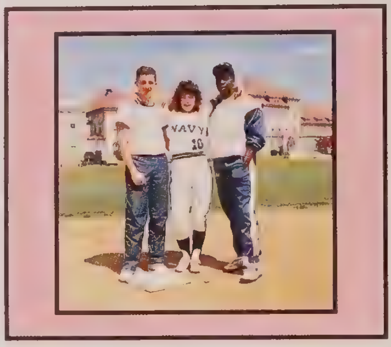
Determination Brings Victories



The Women's Softball Team is a team which consists of talent, courage, and determination. While battling against the uncontrollable odds of bad weather and opponents which were much better prepared, the members of the team never allowed themselves to become discouraged. They created for their team a motto, "Make it happen", as a backbone to guide them through their season. In an exhibition game against University of Maryland, Navy struggled to gain a victory but slightly missed the mark. In an away battle against Dundalk in what appeared to be a sure victory, Dundalk managed to snatch the win. With the motto running strong, the team vowed Dundalk's win would not be repeated. Sure enough, in their second meeting, Navy swept a double-header and put Dundalk to shame. The key players this season were pitchers 3/c Tara Lee and 2/c Davida Nelums. A promising player, sure to lead the team in the upcoming years, is 4/c Shannon Lacy. She contributed greatly to the team at the position of short stop. With a loss of five strong seniors; 1/c Cassandra Crownover, 1/c Tawayla Lemieux, 1/c Julie Morgan, 1/c Sue Seaman, and Captain Kim Feltault, the team will need to rebuild. However, this team is clearly motivated and will surely be able to overcome all adversities placed in its path.

When the Heavyweight Crew team began its spring season, it had high hopes of improving on its 1988 record of 6-4. Fourteen lettermen were returning and the team was coming off an outstanding fall season. Thus, when it went into its first race of the season against Princeton, the team had full intentions of avenging its photo-finish loss from the year before, and thus returning the Navy-Princeton Rowing Cup back to its rightful place on the banks of the Severn River. Unfortunately, bad breaks caused the team to lose the race by two seconds. After a strong showing in the San Diego Crew Classic, the varsity eights were ready to go for a clean sweep in the Goes Trophy in Ithaca, NY. It did exactly that, defeating Cornell and Syracuse handily. Unfortunately, losses to Harvard, Penn, and Wisconsin put dampers on the season but the team did manage to win the shirts from Boston U.

Although the 1988-89 Navy Lightweight Crew did not achieve its preseason goal - to medal in the Eastern Sprint Championships - many valuable lessons were learned. In the fall, the Varsity and JV boats had respectable finishes in the Head of the Charles and Head of the Schuylkill Regattas. In the winter, team captain Dale Hurley and Paul Montanus showed Navy's national prominance by being among the top finishers at the CRASH - B International Ergometer Championships. As winter turned to spring, Navy's varsity and JV boats avenged several defeats to finish the season nationally ranked at 7th and 5th respectively. According to Coach Pat Manion, the lessons learned by the 1988-89 season will help to build a Navy Lightweight Crew "dynasty".

Sharp To The Catch

All the 14 minute drills, 0400 wake ups, and erg tests paid off this year for the Women's Crew Team. Beginning with a 1st place finish in Atlanta, Georgia at the Head of the Chatahoochie in the fall, the team left many opponents gasping for breath in their shells. Having dominated the Schuylkill, the women walked away with the Seitz Point trophy for overall best performance at the Dad Vail Regatta for the third year in a row. The trophy now permanently resides at Navy crew's Hubbard Hall. This was also the first year that the women's crew team sent a four to the Open Collegiate Women's Nationals, where they placed fourth in the finals. This year's team was led by Captain Maria Chapman. Next season this team will look to continue their winning streak and continue their outstanding performance.

Season highlights included high finishes at the Camp Lejeune Invitational (4th), the Eastern Championships (6th) and a dual meet victory at Delaware. A tight 6 stroke loss at Army was highlighted by the low scores of Pete Rieg (74) and Brad Vogt (73). Rieg was named District II All-American for his strong play this season. This year's squad was coached by Coach Larry Ringer and the team's officer representatives were CAPT Gilroy and LT Spooner.

This year's lacrosse squad was led by top scorer and 1st team All-American Brian Keith. With his high scoring power, backed with excellent contribution from attackmen Denny Nealon, Mike Herger, and Paul Basile, the team made it to the NCAA quarterfinals before being stopped in their tracks by the Syracuse Orangemen.

Despite this difficult loss, Navy's season was one to be proud of with victories over Yale, Penn (twice), Delaware, Washington College, Rutgers, UMBC, and most importantly, Army. This year's victory over Army (12-1), was the widest margin of victory between the two since the late 1950's. The only loss of the year by a wider margin than 2 goals was the loss to the Orangemen.

Three other players achieved All-American status: Mike Haerger, 3rd team, and Paul Basile and Shan Byrne, honorable mention.

Matching The Best

Navy Tennis has had a successful season this past spring. The team has proved that it can compete with the best of them in the EITL. With an impressive overall 18 - 9 record, the Navy squad beat though opponents such as George Mason, American, N.C. State, Georgetown, and Cornell. This team finished 2nd out of 8 in the Colonial Athletic Association Championships, and ended this winning season by beating Army.

With four plebes on the varsity squad, Captain Robb Tibbs led the team through one of their toughest schedules in Navy Tennis history. Coach John Officer and assistant LT Genne Miller have high expectations for this young and potentially dynamic squad.

Tennis With Finesse

The Women's Tennis Club had a season of growth and development. With plenty of support from the brigade, this team had a successful season with four wins during the spring. The first classmen of the team are 1/c Raelene Ryerson, 1/c Heidi Maley, 1/c Nora Huml, and 1/c Devon Burr. All contributed greatly to the success and camaraderie of the team. The team will have to say goodbye to these leading players along with coach LT Philipps. This will be his final season. LT Philipps along with LT Yastak provided excellent coaching and support for each of the members of the team.

Next year, with a young team and new coaching, will bring a completely new season. Due to the amount of skill present and discipline within the program, the club is also close to achieving varsity status. Look for another successful season with this young and growing tennis team.

Ruckin' To The Top

Young and inexperienced, the Navy Rugby Team quickly became a dedicated and dominant force and completed its most successful season in three years, reaching the Eastern Collegiate Championships and finishing in the final eight teams in the country. In the fall, the hard hitting ruggers swept the Potomac Rugby Union Collegiate Division with a 5-0 record, and in the spring defeated North Carolina State, James Madison, and Georgia Tech to win the Piedmont Regionals and advance to the Eastern Championship game where they lost to a tough Army team. During the spring, impressive wins were also posted over Boston College and West Virginia, and the team completed its first ever tour to California at San Diego, and Camp Pendleton. Selected for the United States Combined Services Junior Team were 1/c Bill Townsend and 1/c Nick Etten, and 2/c Ed Simila, 2/c Rob Garretson, 2/c Wes Bannister, and 2/c John O'Brien. 2/c Chris Haggerty was picked for the All-East Collegiate Team. With this many returning nationally ranked players, next year will promise to be even better.

The Men's Outdoor Track was definitely not lacking in talent as they opened their season with two Academy record-holders, several IC4A finalists, and one Penn Relays champion. This year's squad was led by Captain Chris Campbell whose event is the javelin throw and 1/c Chuck Bailey a definite strength in the hammer throw event. Of the meets in which they competed Navy swept the competition by more than eighty points in their five wins.

The Navy squad opened their impressive season by grabbing four first place finishes at the Virginia Invitational: 3/c Rob Sehnert, shot put; 2/c Robert Packowski, 3000m steeplechase; 2/c Mike Byrd, triple jump; and 2/c Chris Tipton, 1500 meters. Their only disappointing loss was against Army. The cadets lead was cut short as 2/c Tipton snatched third place in the 5000 meter run. The win left the meet to be decided by the winner of the 4x400 meter relay race. Unfortunately, Army managed to inch past the midshipmen.

Army-Navy meet records, however, were broken by Navy's 4x100 meter relay team which consisted of 3/c Nate Hawkins, 1/c Bill Triplett, 2/c Brodie Burkhout, and 2/c Clay Stackhouse.

With a contingent of nine qualifiers for the IC4A Championships, Navy placed fourth in the 4x400 meter relay race. 2/c Mark Hunt finished 7th in high jump and 3/c Anthony Terell placed sixth in the open division triple jump.

Coach Karen Boyle was also given the ECAC Division II Women's Track and Field Coach of the Year award. The Navy women ended the season with an 8th place finish at the Heptagonals. Next year's star performers will most likely include Amy and Sarah Colvin, Maureen Magnan, and Valerie Mansfield. Look out Army, we are on the comeback!

Who Bids The Ocean Deep . . .

The Varsity Offshore Sailing Team led by Captain Steve Verner campaigns year round both on the Chesapeake Bay and the waters of New England and Bermuda. The team is comprised of eleven yachts ranging in size from 44 to 50 feet. Each yacht is commanded by a first or second class midshipman and a midshipman executive officer. A chain of command is organized similar to the structure found aboard ship. In the end the skipper is held ultimately responsible.

The schedule of an offshore sailor is demanding. From the return of the Brigade until the start of November every weekend is filled with either day or overnight races against civilian yachts. To prepare for these races varsity offshore sailors practice daily from 1530 until 1900.

Sailing is a fundamental building block in the development of a naval officer. It teaches respect for the power of the sea and offers experiences that cannot be found aboard ship. For the skippers and executive officers of these yachts, the sailing team offers the responsibility of command at a young age. The experiences of the offshore sailing team truly make better officers of its members.

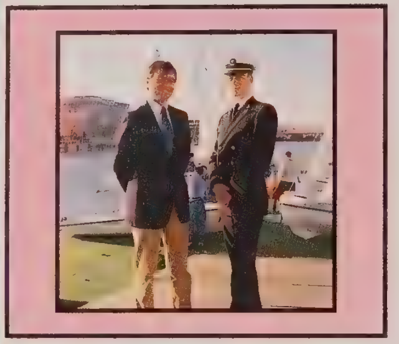
Sailors Of A Smaller Ship



After losing the top laser sailor and women's skipper to graduation last spring, the Naval Academy Dinghy Sailing Team still managed to post an impressive season. Navy's first victory was the Navy Fall Invitational in which Navy won all four divisions (two 420's, two lasers) and the regatta by 90 points.

One of Navy's strengths in the past few years has been singlehanded sailing and last fall was no exception. Senior Charlie Pucciariello and junior Keith Davids led the way finishing first and second in the Mid-Atlantic Singlehanded Championships, qualifying them for the ICYRA Singlehanded Nationals. Pucciariello finished third and Davids finished sixth.

The Dinghy team had successful season winning the Atlantic Coast Championships, the Nelson Rolsch Regatta at Tulane, the Charleston Spring Invite and the Admiral's Cup at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy. At the ICYRA Dinghy Nationals held at Chicago Yacht Club on Lake Michigan, the Navy team was second by only two points after staging a 22 point comeback on the last day. The Navy team of Miami Davids with Sally Chamberlain and Mike Varney was second in A-division and team captain Per Lovfald with Yvette Gonzalez, Shane Baldino and Mark Minotti dominated B-division. The Navy team then won the ICYRA Team Race Nationals. The women's team posted impressive results despite having one of the youngest teams in the nation. Led by sophomore Cynthia Williams and freshman Susie Minton, the midshipmen were second at the Mid-Atlantic Championships, fourth at the Yale Intersectional and fourth at the Navy Women's Invitational. The Navy women placed third at the ICYRA Women's Nationals in Chicago and Williams and Minton were both honored as outstanding women sailors.

The boardsailing was active nearly every weekend last year. Under the leadership of senior John Eckardt, the midshipmen swept the Middle-Atlantic Boardsailing Elimination and qualified three for the Vanderstar Challenge. The Vanderstar was sailed at Navy in mid-November with 15 sailors representing 10 schools and Navy sophomore John Passant emerged victorious. Junior Tom Zikas finished an impressive third while Eckardt placed fifth.

The laser squad also won the Kennedy Cup which was sailed in 44 foot Luders yawls. After winning a tough elimination with the offshore team, the laser squad made a come from behind victory over 11 other schools. To cap off a victorious season Pucciariello, Davids, and Lovfald were named All-Americans and senior Jay Cavalieri was an Honorable Mention All-American. Yvette Gonzalez and Sally Chamberlain were honored as All-Star Crews.

Ahead Of The Pack . . .

The Bicycle Racing Club ended a successful fall season with high expectations for the coming spring. The club — with 1/c Tim Rennick as team captain, CAPT Buckley as coach, and LT Benson as officer representative — put in many long, hard miles during the mild winter. Racing started in Northern California during Spring Leave. The first race, Ryer Island road Race, ended with 7 Navy riders in the top twenty. After a week of training in the wet, hilly climate of California, the club competed in a collegiate race hosted by Sonoma State. Navy faired well despite its lack of early season race experience. Once home, the club prepared itself to host the Annapolis Stage Classic. Even though the club spent may hours getting ready for the race and went into it exhausted, they were able to defeat both Army and Air Force. In addition, under the exceptional performances of 1/c Dave Roberts, 1/c John St. Clair, 1/c Paul Kruszka, 1/c Tim Rennick, 2/c Matt Simms, 2/c Joe Murphy, 3/c Rich Brophy, and 3/c Matt Leahey; the club defeated the Universities of Massachusetts and New Hampshire — both eastern collegiate cycling powers. The following weekend saw Navy at West Point, defeating Army once again. However, the University of Massachusetts revenged its defeat at the Annapolis Stage Classic by winning. Navy came in second. The club's hopes of a conference championship became a reality when it defeated conference rival North Carolina State. The Conference Championship resulted in an invitation to the National Collegiate Cycling Championships in Colorado Springs. Extremely strong competition from the California and Colorado schools saw Navy finish in the top 25 teams nationally. This is an outstanding achievement for Navy Cycling's first trip to the nationals. Other team standouts, besides those mentioned above, were 1/c Ann Hollenbeck, 2/c Will Tumulty, 2/c Van Robbins, 4/c Chris Duffy, 2/c Kara Flatley, 3/c Alan Abbs, 2/c Dave Streight, 2/c Joe Blackstone, 3/c Sean Kelly, 3/c Jeniffer Taitt, 4/c Kristin Dryfuse, 3/c Brian Banks, 3/c Pat Sullivan, and 2/c John Lunger.

The Judo Club was led by Captain James Holly, Coach Don Strong, and Officer Representative LCDR Johnson. This season, the Judo Club competed in four tournaments. The teams first tournament, the Maryland State Championships, was a successful one with the team claiming five first, five second, and three third places. In the New England Regional Championships, Navy could only grab one first place, two second, and one third place wins. Freshman Nakazawa who claimed the first place win was also named an Outstanding Competitor. The second place finishers were 3/c Zoot and 2/c Trotter. The Judo Club also competes against our arch rivals the Cadets of West Point but victory would not be Navy's this season due to the accumulation of injuries to leading members of the Navy team. The club ended their extremely competitive season with the Easter Collegiate Judo Championships which navy hosted this year. With twenty schools entering eighty-seven competitors, the Navy team claimed an exciting second place win. Next year's captain will be 2/c Trotter. Good luck, Navy. Topple Army!

The Karate Club wrapped up another successful season this year of various tournaments, including various tournaments at West Point. The Karate Club, which practices in Halsey Field House, consists of approximately fifty members. From the club, twenty are chosen to represent Navy as the tournament fighting team. Unlike many sports, there is no offseason for the practicers of the martial arts. As a sport, karate offers strength, flexibility, and coordination. In addition to physical fitness, the student learns self-defense. Under the leadership of their O-rep black belt Major Allen the Karate Club looks forward to next year as they plan to hold their own tournament, expand club membership, and, of course, BEAT ARMY!

Intramurals

Every afternoon at 1530, the Academy becomes a haven for physical fitness freaks. One can see mids running, lifting, swimming, and competing. Each midshipman is required to be a member of a sport. It can be a varsity, jv, or intramural sport. The majority of the Brigade, however, compete in one or more of the intramural sports available year round.

Intramural sports often times are more exciting than varsity competitions. Midshipmen skip out on an afternoon of rack and come out to cheer on their companies in the final rounds. Jeers and taunts, cheers and high-fives put even greater pressure on the competitors because they are competing not just for the title but for color points as well. The company's intramural record plays a great part in determining its position in the color competition. Intramurals help midshipmen develop a closer bond to each member in the company but also gives them another opportunity to excel for Navy.

The next five pages include lists of Brigade Champions of each sport for every season. The N.A.A.A. cup which is given to the company with an outstanding intramural record for the year went to the Seventh Company commonly known as Seventh Heaven. Led by coach LT Brennan, 7th company won the Brigade title for 3 on 3 Basketball in the winter, and Fast Pitch Softball during the spring season. The Harvard Shield given to the outstanding battalion for the year went to Sixth Battalion.

DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS

The oldest active Drum and Bugle Corps in the nation consists of over one hundred talented midshipmen. The Drum and Bugle Corps represents the Brigade by performing field shows, concerts, and parades at Navy football games, various colleges and high schools, and special events throughout the nation. A new subset of the Corps, Winterguard, was formed this year, consisting of rifle and flag lines which perform to contemporary music. The corps is directed by Mr. Jay Watkins with additional instruction provided by Mr. Don Johnson, SGT Bob Hayes, and GYSGT Charles Marvray. This year's officer representatives were CDR Ed Kujat, LT Joseph Adan, and LT James Nail. The first semester Corps Commander was 1/c Joseph Howard, and the second semester Commander was 1/c Cameron Geiger.

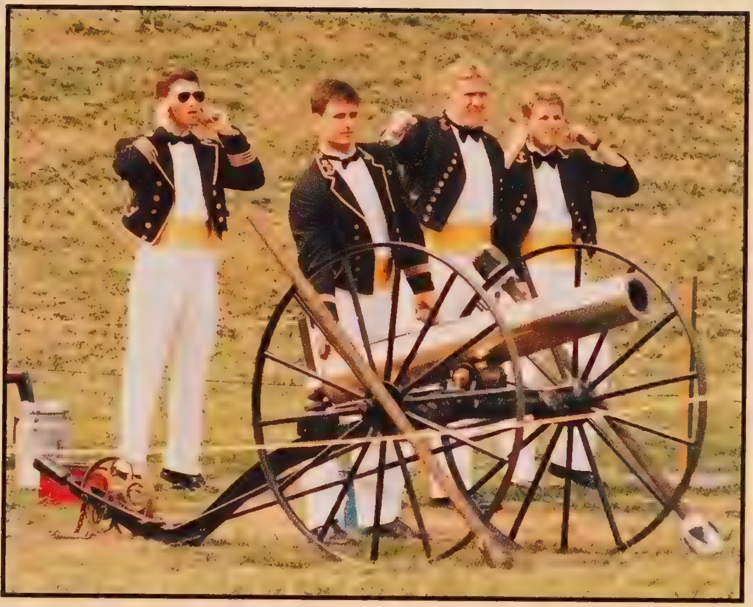
Cheerleaders

The 1988-1989 season was, to say the least, a season of constant change for the cheerleading squad. Patrick and Kim, our two new coaches, brought lots of new, exciting ideas and an energetic attitude to the squad. During the year we had three successive captains, Krista Harris, Chuck Chadwick, and Y.C. Spencer. With a constant stream of new faces coming and old faces leaving, the only thing that held the squad together was spirit and teamwork. What can we say to sum up the year other than Mmprghph . . . nine dollars.

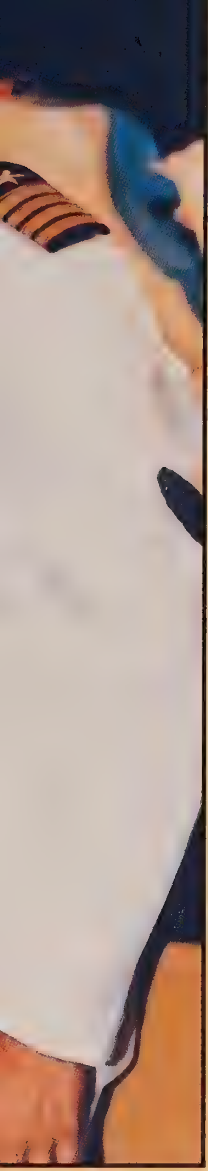
Cannoneers

The Cannoneers is a Brigade Support Activity which exists to support the Navy football team at home games. The club members dress in traditional Civil War attire, and fire the cannon when Navy scores and at other times. Although the cannon is not as technically advanced as the Howitzer, it still protects the Brigade from the Black Knights of the Hudson at the annual Army-Navy contest. The president was 1/c Mark Metzger, and the Officer Representative was LCDR R.W. White.



Masqueraders

Dating back to 1849, Masqueraders is the oldest extracurricular activity at the Naval Academy. Masqueraders was founded in order to give midshipmen the opportunity to explore and exercise talents in all aspects of the theater. Midshipmen not only act, but also run lights, sound, set construction, direction, and all other facets of production. This year, the Masqueraders brilliantly performed Eugene Ionesco's bizzare comedy, Rhinoceros, for some of the largest audiences in Masquerader history. Producing this difficult show presented a great challenge to the midshipmen involved.



Glee Club Musical

The Glee Club presented Irving Berlin's romantic comedy Annie Get Your Gun during the first three weekends in February. Eight performances, starring 1/c Lisa Skaggs as Annie Oakley, 1/c Curt West as Frank Butler, and 1/c Margaret Marcantonio as Dolly Tate, pleased audiences with the love story of the legendary Annie Oakley and Frank Butler. The show involved seventy-eight midshipmen, covering all aspects of production including staff, cast, orchestra, and crew members. Professor David White of the English Department directed the show, and Dr. John B. Tally of the Music Department served as music director. LT Dave Phillips, acted as Officer Representative for the musical. Sincere thanks and congratulations from the producers, 1/c D. D. Gabrielson and 1/c Emory Anderson, go to everyone involved with the show.

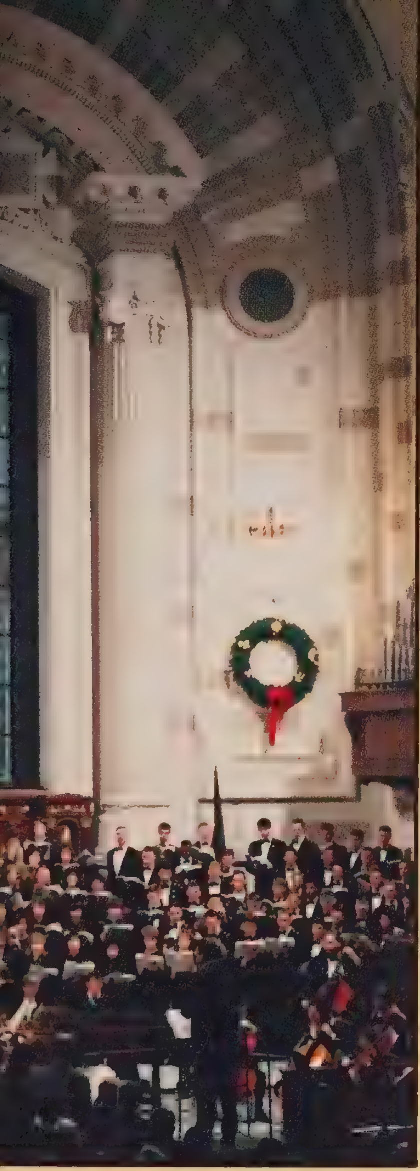
WILSON HOUSE

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Comprised of one hundred midshipmen, the Men's Glee Club performs in the Annapolis-D.C. area and throughout the United States entertaining its audiences with a wide variety of musical styles such as classical, pop/rock, barbershop quartet, and show tunes. Besides providing the brigade with musical support for pep rallies and religious services, this year's performances included tours of New England, Key West, Puerto Rico, Arizona and Nevada, and appearances on NBC's annual Christmas special ''Christmas in Washington'' with former President Reagan, and President Bush's televised inaugural gala. Overall, the Glee Club performs, on the average, over 80 concerts a year.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Women's Glee Club performs for audiences throughout the country. This year marked the group's first solo tour: the women travelled to Orlando, Florida to perform for the Chief of Naval Operations and for enchanted audiences at Disney World and EPCOT. The Women's Glee Club performs two annual concerts at the Naval Academy. They also sing with the Men's Glee Club, often for distinguished audiences in nearby Washington, D.C. Highlight combined performances included Handel's Messiah in the Academy Chapel, NBC's Christmas in Washington for President and Mrs. Reagan, CBS's Inaugural Gala for President-elect and Mrs. Bush, and a Christmas tour to Key West and Puerto Rico.



ORIOLED

PROTESTANT CHAPEL CHOIR

Each Sunday, members of the Protestant Chapel Choir provide musical leadership during the Naval Academy's Protestant Chapel Services. This year, the choir shared music with the congregations of the Eastern Shore Chapel in Virginia Beach in the fall, St. John's Church in Washington, D.C. in February, and the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York City in the spring. The choir also witnessed through song at the National Prayer Breakfast, a service that President George Bush attended.

CATHOLIC CHOIR

The Catholic Choir is tasked with providing support for the Catholic Midshipmen of the Brigade by participating in the 0900 Mass every Sunday. In addition to singing at the Academy Chapel, the Catholic Choir travels round the country in a Brigade support role. Each year they are invited to sing at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City. Each Fall they sing for the annual Navy Day celebration at the Shrine of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton in Emmittsburg, Maryland. The choir has also been warmly received in Dallas, Texas, and New Orleans, Louisiana, in the spring of alternate years. The 100 members are directed by Dr. Talley. The Club President this year was Julie Modlin.

GOSPEL CHOIR

This year has seen the Gospel Choir grow and expand. The year began with the Gospel Extravaganza at the University of Maryland, uniting gospel choirs from the area's traditionally white colleges. The choir also appeared at several area churches, and participated in the Ecumenical Thanksgiving service here with the Academy's other religious ECAs. The Gospel Choir, along with the Glee Club, provided the music for the Martin Luther King, Jr. Memorial Service at the Academy's Chapel, which featured Martin Luther King, III, as the speaker. The choir then traveled to Baltimore for a musical sponsored by the Junior Mission of New Shiloh Baptist Church. The choir has also travelled to West Point and Atlanta to perform. The choir hosted the USNA Gospel Jubilee, involving choirs from the local area, and performed for the parents of the first class during Commissioning Week.

Filipino American Club

The purpose of the Fil-Am Club, also known as the Barkada (family), is to help increase the Filipinio-American midshipman's awareness of his/her Philippine heritage. By opening membership to all midshipmen, the Barkada hopes to share Philippine culture with the rest of the Brigade. This year's activities included a banquet and a picnic. The club strives to maintain and create new relationships with contemporary youth organizations and has interacted with similar associations from Georgetown University, George Washington University, University of Maryland, George Mason and other colleges. We would like to extend our thanks to CAPT Gilroy and LT Molina for their help and support during these infant years. The President was 1/c Randolph Reyes.

Black Studies Club

This club exists primarily to educate its members in Black History. Each meeting serves to broaden club knowledge of the contributions of the many black men and women who in times present and past have affected our lives in a positive way. The emphasis placed on this knowledge of the black contribution to life in general is paramount to defining the role of blacks in America and dispelling any and all negative stereotypes. The club reaches out to youth in the community to present positive role models. By inviting successful naval officers to speak at the academy, we create that positive image for the members of the club as well.

Amateur Radio

The Naval Academy Amateur Radio Club, call sign W3ADO, has been active in all forms of communications this year. We have talked to people across the country and around the world in traditional modes such as Morse Code and voice. In addition, we have conducted experiments in new frontiers such as amateur television, which is similar to regular TV, and in packet radio, in which computers exchange data over the airwaves. This year, we conducted a "special event station," transmitting in commemoration of the 143rd anniversary of the Naval Academy. Amateur Radio provides valuable training in skills that will be needed on the communications-intense battle ground of tomorrow. W3ADO provides midshipmen with a hands-on experience in this area.

Midshipman Action Group

Midshipmen have been involved in community service for over one hundred years. That service is the reason why the group was founded over ten years ago. Our goal is to coordinate efforts of the Brigade to best serve our community. All midshipmen involved are volunteers and frequently work on more than one project. In the past the Midshipman Action Group has chopped wood for the elderly and families in need, built community playgrounds, shoveled snow, and worked exensively with the Special Olympics. We are proud of the work we do because it not only improves our community, but also teaches midshipmen the citizenship skills necessary to be strong members of our society. The President was 1/c Matthew C. Sandoval.

National Eagle Scout Association

The National Eagle Scout Association is an organization consisting of approximately 200 Eagle Scouts within the Brigade of Midshipmen. Each year we host a merit badge jamboree for 500 boy scouts from the mid-Atlantic states. We also participate in local camporees, host visiting boy scouts troops at the Academy, participate in scoutmaster training programs, and work with handicapped boy scouts in the Annapolis area. The midshipmen make several camping and canoe trips each year and host an annual banquet. Our guest speaker this year was a fellow alumni and Eagle Scout, Admiral Elmo R. Zumwalt, Jr. NESA strives to maintain active ties with local troops and to emphasize the importance of attaining the Eagle Scout Award.

Association For Computing Machinery

In its second year of existence, the Naval Academy student chapter of the ACM continued to grow. Highlights of the year include noon-time guest speakers approximately every 6 weeks who spoke on topics such as Artificial Intelligence, Software Engineering, and Computer Networks. Five midshipmen attended their first programming contest at Drew University in Madison, New Jersey. The ACM also sponsored a computer contest for midshipmen in the spring. The contest placed teams of 3 midshipmen under time constraints while they wrote programs in Pascal on the Computer Science Department's VAX mini-computer. The ACM is a professional computer society which exists to advance the sciences and arts of information processing. The lectureship program informs midshipmen of the ever-increasing advances in the field of computer science. The President was 1/c Mark Minotti.

Chemistry Club

Ever strengthening, the Chemistry Club, known to some as ''The Society of Future Doctors,'' proved itself a catalyst of high energy and enthusiasm within the Brigade again this year by sponsoring programs such as the monthly noon seminars, a dining-out, a faculty-midshipman softball game, and finally the year-end ''Thank God It's Finished'' picnic. The club boasts a viscous and coherent membership of nearly one hundred midshipmen and attempts to establish a happy equilibrium between the mids and the faculty both in and out of the classroom while dispelling any and all evil rumors about the toxicity of the chemistry major. The President was 1/c Loren Smith.

Astronomy Club

The Naval Academy's Astronomy Club is an academic club who's mission is to stimulate the interest of midshipmen in astronomy and astrophysics. The club does this by educating its members in astronomy, astrophotography, and astrophysics as well as giving the club members hands on experience in star gazing. The club uses and operates its own equipment which includes an impressive 16'' scope and dome on top of Michelson Hall. Along with the club activities at USNA, the Astronomy Club also went on several field trips which included a star gazing trip to Maryland's Eastern shore, a tour of the Naval Observatory in D.C., and a tour of NASA's Goddard Space center.

Navigators

The Navigators is an interdenominational Christian organization whose purpose is to develop Christ-like character in midshipmen. The emphasis is placed on the individual; study and training focus on Jesus Christ. In addition to time spent together studying the Bible or during weekend activities, midshipmen went on weekend retreats, skied in Vermont and Pennsylvania, toured New York City, held a conference with the University of Maryland, and finished the year with its annual canoe trip. The Navigators honored members of the Class of 1989 with a graduation banquet.

Officers' Christian Fellowship

The Officers' Christian Fellowship, familiarly known as OCF, is a service-wide Christian organization to promote the spread of God's Word and Christian fellowship. Currently over 300 midshipmen participate in this ECA. The highlights of the 1988-89 year include the Labor Day Weekend Retreat in September and the Martin Luther King Weekend Retreat in January, both in White Sulphur Springs, Pa. OCF meets weekly for an hour of singing, prayer and speakers. On weekends, midshipmen meet at Maranatha Mansion to enjoy fellowship, food, and special activities. OCF promotes Navy-wide as well as international fellowship.

Protestant Midshipman Club

The missions and activities of the Protestant Midshipmen Club compliment those of the other religious ECAs. Working closely with the Protestant Chapel community, the club provides Sunday morning Children's Church, while also sending speakers to nearby churches and colleges as a form of Christian outreach and Academy familiarization. The chaplains and club members lead lay worship and peer counseling classes which provides helpful skills that can be used in the fleet.

Catholic Midshipmen Club

The CMC fosters the spiritual growth and provides lay leadership opportunities through a series of yearly programs which are available to all Roman Catholic midshipmen. The three Catholic Chaplains help to promote a friendly community atmosphere in which Catholic Midshipmen can look to for support, and equip themselves spiritually and morally with the tools provided by their Faith for their future leadership roles in the Fleet. Three annual retreats are offered each year at local retreat centers, in order to provide midshipmen with an extended opportunity to share in the spiritual resources of their faith.

Fellowship Of CHRISTIAN

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union is a Christian ECA dedicated to enriching the individual midshipman's personal relationship with God. The BSU holds Sunday morning worship services during plebe summer, and weekly Tuesday night meetings during the academic year. The BSU also sponsors weekly bible studies and weekend retreats for midshipmen. Work projects, undertaken during end of semester leave, provide an opportunity for midshipmen to minister in the love of Christ. The BSU student center, located just outside gate 3, provides a place for midshipmen to relax, watch TV, and mingle with civilian students.

L'Chaim

L'Chaim is the Jewish Midshipmen Club at the Academy. All Jewish midshipmen are members. On November 20, 1988 we celebrated the 50th Anniversary of the Jewish Chapel Party. Jewish Alumni attended from all over the United States. In 1989, we will be hosting the Israeli Naval Attache to the U.S., and in April, the Academy will receive a Torah scroll that survived the Nazi Holacaust. The club sponsors services every Friday night during the Academic year and on Jewish holidays throughout the year. We have our own monthly newsletter called Ha Gal (The Wave). The President of the club is Midshipman 1/c Mark Vandroff.

F.C.A.

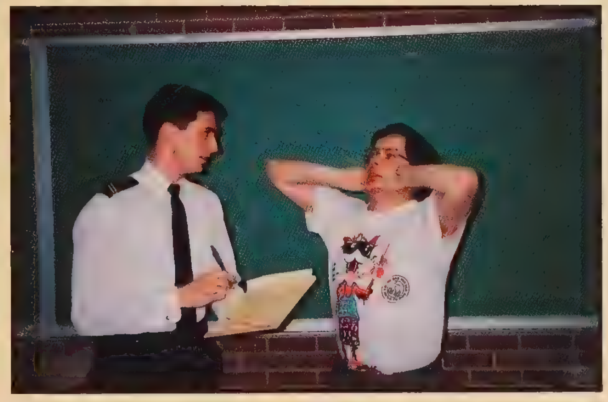
Contrary to popular belief, FCA should not be called Fellowship of Christian Varsity Athletes. Even if you play company sports, you are welcome at FCA. With the arrival of our new Officer Representative CAPT Spoffard and his commitment to our group, this year got off to a great start. ''Huddles'' (Bible study groups) were formed in order to promote fellowship and to make FCA a more personal experience. This year's President was Neil Underwood. We would like to thank Lt. Power, Cdr. Worley, Capt. Holderby, Capt. Spoffard, and most of all Jesus Christ for our blessings and successes this year.

Churchill Society

The Churchill Society, named in honor of Winston Churchill, a prominent early 20th century American author and graduate of the class of 1894, was founded in 1972 as an ECA for English majors. The Society's membership has since grown to include midshipmen of all majors who are interested in the humanities and other artistic endeavors. The Churchill Society regularly sponsors movies as well as guest lecturers, poets, and authors who speak on the Yard. The President of the Churchill Society was 1/c Michael Metzger.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters Organization

The Big Brothers/Big Sisters Club gives midshipmen a unique opportunity to grow as human beings. The member goes through an extensive screening process and gets assigned to a child who shares his same interests and hobbies. The club has very few sponsored events and it is up to the midshipman to spend his own time with his selected buddy. The midshipman serves as a role model for the child and helps the child develop the traits required of all midshipmen who join the club. The club also gets midshipmen interacting with the public which generates goodwill between the Academy and the community.



Debate Team

In the past year, the debate team has successfully competed in a number of tournaments throughout the United States. The team has compiled an impressive record, including an overall National Debate Tournament (NDT) raking in the top 10 of the nation and in the overall sweepstakes awarded by the American Debate Association (ADA), the debate team finished 2nd.

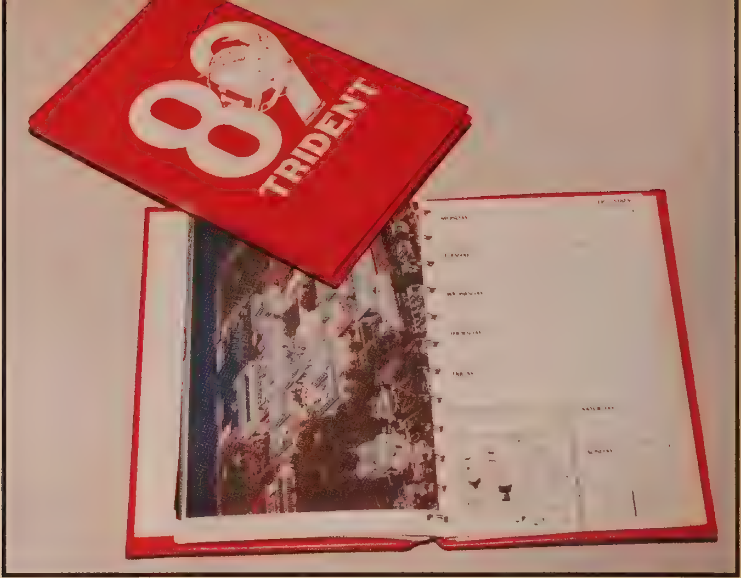
International Club

The main function of the International Club is to host the annual International Ball. This year marks the 23rd anniversary of the gala event that most foreign students and diplomats in the Washington DC area look forward to every year.

The 1989 Ball was organized by several committees: invitations, 3/c Kristen Roper: Food and Decorations, 2/c Lynne Chapman: Ceremony, 3/c Dave Mitchell: Entertainment, 2/c Dave Holahan: Cabaret, 1/c Rob Kovalchik: Transportation, 1/c Brian Caldwell. The Vice-President was 1/c Tania Viera and the President was 1/c Ellen Gardner.

Trident Brass

The Trident Brass Jazz Ensemble is composed of twenty-four musical midshipmen. The group performed Big Band arrangements for the Academy's International Ball and more contemporary pieces for the traditional pre-commissioning week outdoor concert. The band's President was Jon Jerge and Director was MU1 Denny Blair.



Reef Points 1985-1986

Trident Calendar

The Trident Calendar contains pictures, quotes and cartoons that pertain to midshipman life, many contributed by the midshipmen themselves. The publication is very popular, with almost 7,000 copies purchased this year by midshipmen and their relatives and friends. The staff is very active during the football season, and when production of the next year's calendar begins. Selling calendars at home football games and tail-gating afterwards are some of the fun things the staff participates in. The Officer Representative was CDR Gottschalk and the President was 1/c Michael Belles.

Reef Points

Reef Points provides updated information about Navy Life, history, and traditions. The book is an integral part of plebe summer as newly inducted plebes are required to memorize and learn various parts of the text. During plebe summer, no fourth class leaves his room without his copy of Reef Points and, for this reason, it has been dubbed the ''Plebe Bible.''

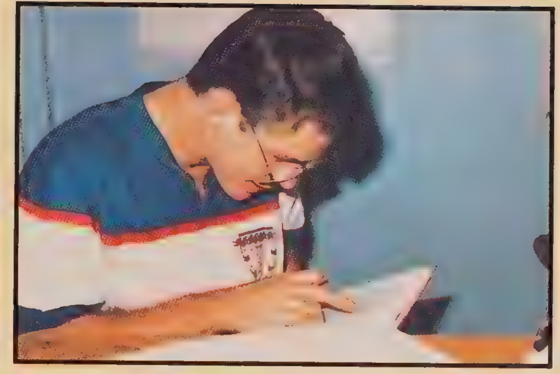
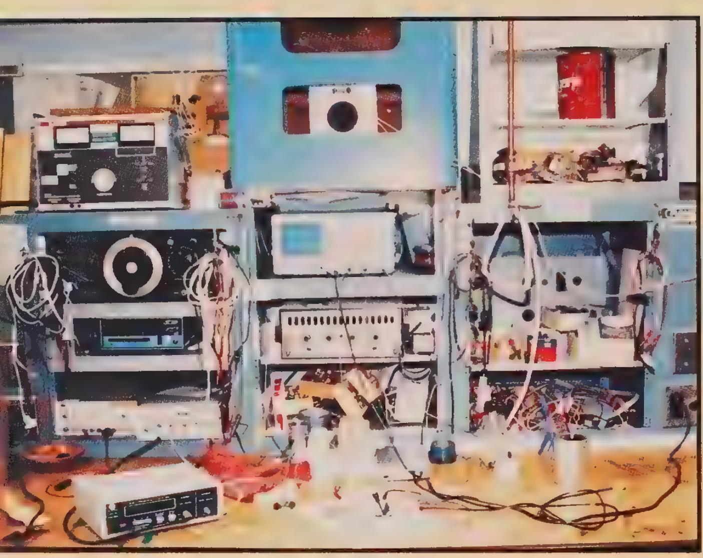
Class Officers

This year's class presidents for the respective classes are: CLASS OF 1989 - Brian S. Sears; CLASS OF 1990 - Robert B. Sofge; CLASS OF 1991 - Peter H. Tyson; CLASS OF 1992 - Robert Kennedy. These class presidents are representatives of their class and they assure that all class activities are well planned and carried out. Proposals for increased liberty, parking, other privileges, changes to regulations, or tailgaters are usually originated by the class committees. Traditionally, the president of the graduating class leads the class in the final three cheers that prcedes the spectacular hat toss which ends their midshipman careers.

Log Magazine

The Log is the monthly magazine that attempts to poke fun at life at the Naval Academy and the antics of the Brigade of Midshipmen. The Log accomplishes this through stories, fact or fiction, photographs, and artwork. Material is contributed by various members of the Brigade and sources outside the Yard. However, the core of the Log is made up of fifteen to twenty midshipmen who contribute to every issue. The organization of each issue is done at layout where each page of the upcoming issue is planned and designed. The four or five hours of work at each session is broken up by taking group photos, tatooing, eating, and just escaping life in Mother B.





Institute For Electrical And Electronic Engineers

IEEE, the largest professional organization in the world, allows midshipmen to enhance their electrical engineering expertise. This year's student chapter, led by President Rich Beutter, coordinated guest speakers and several lectures, provided its members with an IEEE workspace, conducted a project display to further underclass interest in this challenging major, and hosted a Commissioning Week reception for parents and faculty.

American Society Of Mechanical Engineers

The Naval Academy Student Section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers provides an opportunity for students to begin their professional careers by joining a professional engineering society; to inform students of recent developments in the field of mechanical engineering through publications, field trips and meetings; to promote fellowship and interaction with other student sections as well as professional sectors of the Society.

American Nuclear Society

The American Nuclear Society is composed of the many people who share an interest in nuclear power. Our members' majors may range from History to Marine Engineering. In order to satisfy the needs of our members, club activities include lectures such as the Advanced Technology lecture series and field trips to places like the Limerick nuclear power plant in Limerick, Pennsylvania where we were given an opportunity to view a nuclear power plant at the final stages of its construction.

Lucky Bag . . . The Adventure

There are so few of them, but their job is enormous. The Lucky Bag . . . the largest yearbook in the nation and the only one in 100% color. The result is special and is a source of memories for the future, but the work that goes into it is endless. Every Friday night, the staff gathered under the direction of 1/c Grace Stover and labored under threat of whips and torture in order to meet the dreaded deadlines. But the reward was high . . . guaranteed pizza every time.

In all reality, there were a lot of good times. Radios screamed and fights continually erupted over whether we would listen to Van Halen, or Fine Young Cannibals.

In any case, the big goal was to get the yearbook out in reasonable time and to have it look decent and respectable. ''Hey boss, how'd we do?''

Practical Shooting Club

The USNA Practical Shooting Club is a relatively new ECA that instructs midshipmen and officers in the safe and efficient handling of a sidearm. As the name implies, shooting in practical situations is emphasized: from behind tables, through windows, around walls - all with motion in between each station. Silhouette-shaped targets are engaged at ranges from five to fifty yards. SEAL, FBI, and police units have expressed interest in competing in matches. This sport offers midshipmen the chance to develop their skills with a sidearm.

High Power Rifle Team

The Naval Academy High Power Rifle Team provides midshipmen of all classes the opportunity to develop their shooting skills through repeated instruction and competition with the M-14 service rifle. In addition to practice sessions at the Naval Station's 200-yard rifle range, the team competes regularly against military and civilian teams at the 600-yard range in Bridgeville, Delaware. The highlight of the shooting season comes each summer, when the USNA High Power Rifle Team spends a month competing at the annual Interservice Rifle Matches at MCB Quantico, Virginia, and Camp Perry, Ohio. The Officer Representative was CAPT Diaz, USMC, and the President was 1/c Bob Beymer.

Archery

The Archery Club was founded in 1984 by Stephen Waugh due to the number of people interested in bow sports. There are currently over fifty members whose specialties vary from crossbow shooting to formal target-style archery. There are the traditionalists with their wooden recurves and the high-tech deerslayers with their compound composite cam bows. On Saturday mornings one can spot archers leaving on weekend with bows slung over their shoulders. New members are welcome, and no shooting experience is required. This year's officers are Van Emery, Joe Polanin, Mike Leschinsky, and Rick Ryan.

Ultimate Frisbee

Navy Ultimate Frisbee recently gained ECA status at Navy and hasn't stopped rolling since. The first season saw the capture of the sectional championship with victories over Towson State U., U. of Maryland, St. Mary's U., and USUHS. The team moved onto the Regional Championships for a bid at national competition, but lost two hard-fought games to Penn State and Virginia Tech. The team has travelled all over the East Coast, competing in tournaments with World and National Champions. The team is led by 1/c Paterson and 1/c Jenkins and represented by Professor Robert Beckman.

Windsurfing Club

The Windsurfing Club is the newest club at USNA. What started as a class project has turned into one of the most exciting clubs here. The purpose of the club is to promote the popular sport of windsurfing and develop midshipmen's sailing skills. The Severn River and adjoining Cheapeake Bay offer ideal locations for windsurfing. The club President was 1/c Jarrod Nixon.

Orienteering Club

Land navigation is the heart of the Orienteering Club. Using only a compass and a map, members race through a course trying to reach different checkpoints in the smallest possible time. The key to success is finding the control flags located at pre-determined places within the course's boundaries. The Club's members participate in meets throughout the Maryland and Virginia area. Great appreciation is acknowledged to the O-Rep, Capt Williams, who motivated increased committment and involvement to make the Club what it is today.

Surface Action Group

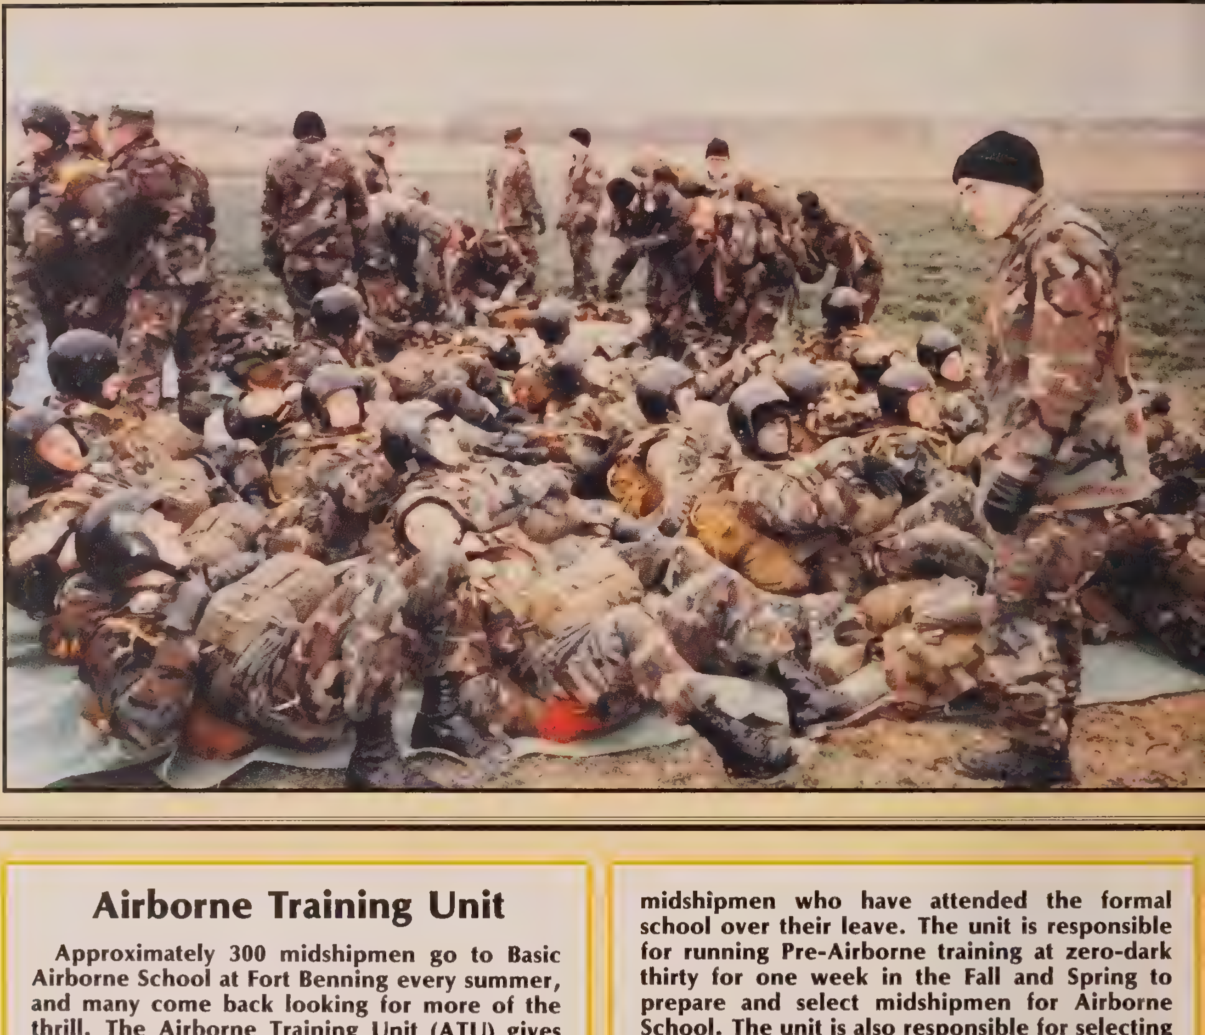
The Surface Action Group provides midshipmen with the opportunity to learn more about the Surface Warfare Community by coordinating guest speakers and field trips and assisting in service selection and ship visits. These activities are designed to promote knowledge of and respect for the Surface Warfare Community throughout the Brigade.

Naval Academy Flying Squadron

The Naval Academy Flying Squadron provides a voluntary aviation activity for the midshipmen. It provides midshipmen an opportunity to develop important skills in aeronautics, navigation, mechanics, radio communications, and other related aerosciences. Midshipmen may work toward a private pilot license, increase their professional skills or fly to retain their proficiency.

Marine Technology Society

The purpose of MTS is to provide midshipmen the opportunity to learn about the ocean environment. The members of this club gain knowledge by attending monthly lectures given by various professionals in the field of oceanography. Members also enjoy group activities, such as a crab feast, a dining-in and a trip to the Baltimore Aquarium.



Airborne Training Unit

Approximately 300 midshipmen go to Basic Airborne School at Fort Benning every summer, and many come back looking for more of the thrill. The Airborne Training Unit (ATU) gives qualified midshipmen an opportunity to gain more jumping experience and earn their ''gold wings'' by participating in jumps on the weekends and over leave. They jump from aircraft such as the C-130, C-141, UH-1, CH-47 and OV-10 at altitudes of 1250 to 3000 feet at various drop zones, including the USNA dairy farm. All of the parchutes are packed by qualified ''riggers''-midshipmen who have attended the formal school over their leave. The unit is responsible for running Pre-Airborne training at zero-dark thirty for one week in the Fall and Spring to prepare and select midshipmen for Airborne School. The unit is also responsible for selecting midshipmen to attend SERE, Rigger and Jumpmaster Schools, allowing members to work with various Marine Corps and Special Warfare units and familiarizing them with the missions of these units. Airborne!

Semper Fidelis Society

The Semper Fidelis Society exists to grant midshipmen an insight into the structure and mechanics of the U.S. Marine Corps and to allow a view of the widest possible spectrum of Marine Corps life. Future Marine Corps officers are given the opportunity to discover the responsibilities and challenges that prevail in the FMF, while simultaneously gaining a firm understanding of the motto, ''work hard, play hard.'' A primary emphasis is to introduce midshipmen to the unique camaraderie and brotherhood of fellow officers. Under the guidance of the president 1/c Tom Wando, the club has sponsored activities to include an exotic weapons shoot, a canoe/fishing trip, and various lectures by senior marines. The members of the club would like to extend their deepest appreciation to the Marine Corps officers at the Academy, 1st Sgt. Elvington, and our Advisors, Capt. Tibbits, USMC, and Capt. Bacon, USMC, for their fantastic support and contributions.

Society Of Automotive Engineers

SAE is an organization dedicated to the advancement of mobility technology. As a student chapter, the academy's SAE club focuses on education and introduction to real world engineering. Topics of guest speakers range from the space shuttle to the Ford Thunderbird. The club also participates in inter-university design competitions sponsored by SAE. This year was the first time an inter-service meeting was held with West Point's SAE club.

Women's Professional Association

The Women's Professional Association (WPA) was formed during the 1987-88 school year. The group has grown rapidly since its formation, reaching out to all four classes of female midshipmen. There are monthly meetings which usually include a guest speaker from one of the service communities. There is also a monthly newsletter put together by the officers, the Officer Representative, and the members of WPA. The WPA's objectives include encouraging the educational and professional development of women midshipmen, improving the awareness of the Brigade concerning career opportunities in all areas of the Naval Service, and providing a forum for discussion of common issues and concerns affecting women in the military.

Welcome Submariners

Dolphin Club

The Dolphin Club is an organization which provides midshipmen interested in the submarine service information on a direct level. Club members and other interested midshipmen have an opportunity to go on field trips, hear guest speakers, and meet submariners.

HORNET TALES

CAPABILITY

"ONE PILOT, ONE PLANE."

"There are still some folks out there who think we train two pilots to fly two different Hornets—fighter pilots for the 'F-18' and attack pilots for the 'A-18.' They're completely missing the beauty of this machine for the Navy.

"This one plane flies both missions and the pilot is trained for both missions. For a squadron skipper like me, the dual role advantage means I've got a lot more capability on hand. So when I get the order for additional strike force or more combat air patrol, I can give 'em a 'yes' instead of a plea for four more hours to get some different equipment in the air.

"I led one of four squadrons of Hornets on the Coral Sea during the Libyan action. Coral's one of the smaller carriers in the fleet—too small for other fighters so they filled her up with Hornets.

"It was like this. We'd have six of 'em in the air and I get told the mission's being changed from air-to-air over to air-to-ground. I tell the guy in the sky and it's done. He's air-to-ground, just like that. We've actually changed the mission while they're flying—no other plane could do that.

"Then the situation starts gettin' real hot and they double our normal sortie rate—double it. And we do it—without the maintenance crew having a nervous breakdown.

"That ship got a new lease on life with us. Turned out '18s did most of the flying, they were so reliable.

"I tell you from personal experience, no plane can go up against the '18 for maintainability and availability. The numbers prove it. Libya proved it.

"It stays up like nothin' else. And it takes just one pilot and one plane to do jobs no other single plane can handle.

"The Hornet keeps pilots happy. It keeps the maintenance crew happy. And it makes me look good, real good."

"That ship got a new lease on life with us. Turned out '18s did most of the flying, they were so reliable."

THE F/A-18. FAMILIARITY BREEDS AWE.

The F/A-18 strike fighter is a highly effective force multiplier—one plane with one pilot capable of flying more tactical missions more effectively than any other Naval aircraft. This Hornet Tale was taken from interviews with actual F/A-18 squadron skippers. Do you have a Hornet Tale? If you'd like to tell us about it, send your name, address and phone number to: McDonnell Douglas Hornet Tales, P.O. Box 4105, Hazelwood, MO 63042. We'll send you a set of six F/A-18 "ROCKIN' AND ROLLIN'" posters and may interview you for our next Hornet Tale. McDonnell Douglas prime contractor, Northrop principal subcontractor.

F-16. THE NAVY'S OWN WORST ENEMY.

F-16. The best single fighter in the world.

Navy pilots are now flying against the hottest single-engine fighter in the world.

Designated the F-16N Adversary Fighter, this incredibly fast and agile combat fighter engages Navy crews in mock combat. Simulates advanced enemy fighter tactics. Challenges them to survive.

Those who win come away with the knowledge and confidence that, if the time ever comes, they'll win in the real world of air-to-air combat.

Which is what makes the Navy's own worst enemy its own best friend.

GENERAL DYNAMICS

OUR "COMPREHENSIVE" PERSONAL PROPERTY INSURANCE FOR CADETS/MIDSHIPMEN IS

10 Ways Better than other "Comprehensive" coverage for Academy Students

Here are just 4 examples

LOSS OR THEFT OF JEWELRY, WATCHES, FURS

Our policy pays up to $250 per item and, at no added cost, higher limits if you list (schedule) property in these categories with us. Other policies normally pay only $250 for loss of any one or more items in the above grouping. With other companies, higher limits require a separate policy at added cost. Note: The method of insuring service academy, university or college graduation rings may differ from insurer to insurer.

LOSS OR THEFT OF CASH

Our policy pays up to $250. With other policies, the limit usually is only $100.

TOTAL AMOUNT OF COVERAGE YOU CAN BUY

You can buy as much coverage as you want from us. Other unscheduled "comprehensive" coverage offered to cadets and midshipmen is usually limited to $3,000.

LENGTH OF TIME YOU CAN KEEP COVERAGE

Our policy not only gives you "comprehensive" protection for your property while you are a cadet or midshipman, but also throughout your service career. Your commissioning does not require you to take any action to continue your coverage. It automatically goes with you to your first commissioned assignment. Others may require you to take out a new policy, at new rates, at the first policy renewal after graduation.

Grand Am SE.
Twin-Cam Hot. Dull, It's Not.

Meet the full adult dose of Pontiac performance and technology. It's sure to bring fast relief from the mundane machinery blues. The SE's active ingredients list is topped by an available Quad 4 dual overhead cam 16-valve engine with 150 hp and a European-style rev band. A turbocharged 2.0L engine is standard. Transmissions are a Getrag-licensed 5-speed manual or an optional 3-speed automatic. Every SE has a high-performance suspension, power rack-and-pinion steering, deflected-disc struts and shocks, and Eagle GT+4 tires. New aero skirting and wheel well flares toughen the exterior look. Inside there's full analog instrumentation, plus a leather-wrapped steering wheel, shift knob and parking brake handle. A Delco sound system with compact disc player is available. Order this audio setup with the high-revving Quad 4 engine and you may be undecided as to which "traveling music" you prefer. Either way, Grand Am SE kicks out the jams.

Expertise.
Dependability.
Pride.

The military readiness of America's armed forces depends heavily on the United States-flag fleet. Without a strong and healthy Merchant Marine to transport supplies and other vital equipment anywhere around the globe, U.S. military operations overseas would be left high and dry. And for generations, brave and patriotic seamen have carried the proud traditions of the U.S. Merchant Marine into war.

Today, during peacetime, the licensed officers and unlicensed seamen of America's largest maritime union, District No. 1-MEBA/NMU of the National Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association, carry on that tradition on vessels in the U.S.-flag government and commercial fleets.

They are an elite corps of highly skilled seamen who have proven, time and time again, the meaning of the words expertise, dependability and pride.

It's a tradition that's been handed down since the union's founding in 1875.

COMPOSITE WARSHIPS: A NEW ERA IS LAUNCHED.

A new era has begun at Intermarine USA.

The era of composite warships.

And it's being launched with Intermarine USA's construction of Glass Reinforced Plastic (GRP) minehunters for the U.S. Navy.

But this is just the beginning.

Intermarine USA is ready to extend its composites technologies to high speed patrol boats, underwater pressure vessels and superstructures for frigates and destroyers.

In fact, within the next decade, all the composites benefits that have helped revolutionize performance for military and commercial aircraft will be applied to U.S. warships of every type and tonnage.

Benefits such as greater speed and range, improved fire resistance and reduced maintenance.

To find out how Intermarine USA is steering a new course in naval architecture, contact: Intermarine USA, P.O. Box 3045, Savannah, Georgia 31402. Or call (912) 234-6579.

RAST Makes it Possible--and Safe

Helicopter operations at sea are tough enough. With bad weather and night conditions, there is no room for error. That is why the United States Navy and navies around the world rely on the Recovery Assist, Securing and Traversing system (RAST) from Indal Technologies, a company with 30 years' experience in shipborne helicopter handling.

RAST permits safe and efficient helicopter operations in severe roll, pitch and heave conditions. RAST guides the helicopter to a safe landing on the flight deck and keeps it there, securely positioned for traversing into the hangar. With more than 150 RAST systems installed, RAST is the world's only proven fully-integrated recovery and handling system in active service. With helicopter handling systems, hangars and hangar doors, Indal Technologies has unmatched experience in complete shipborne helicopter support equipment.

We're the leading edge in wings. And the last word in communications.

A proven direction in avionics. And propulsion systems to get you there.

We're the air you breathe. And the muscle to stop a 200 ton jumbo.

We can hit mach 3+. Or a target the size of this page.

We're hypersonic. We're undersea.

We're armored and armor piercing.

We can give you sight in the dark. Or electricity on the moon.

We can project an electronic map. And fly you to it by wire.

We're military. And civilian.

We're commercial aviation. And general aviation.

We're a more aerodynamic aerospace company.
